

Abstract

It is a problem of the invention to provide a telephone device in which only a terminal possessed by a user who wishes to identify a call partner is provided with a function of identifying the call partner, whereby the call partner can be always identified without troubling the call partner, and without making the call partner conscious of the judgment. The telephone device of the invention comprises: a storing section 18 which stores a voice of each of speakers; a speaker verifying section 15 which verifies the voice of each of speakers with a voice of a call partner; and a user notifying section 19 which notifies of the speaker who coincides with the voice of the call partner by the speaker verifying section 15.
